I have always been a Ford fan as long as I can remember, but only had a mild interest in Mustangs until one day in probably the fall of 1966 when I encountered a Kona Blue Shelby GT 350. From that moment on, I forever searched to see another Mustang with rear windows in place of the usual louvers. The next notable event occurred in 1969 when I went running to my Dad with a Hot Rod magazine opened to a page with an ad for the new Boss 429 and telling him he should buy one (if you are going to dream, dream big!). By the time I came of driving age, insurance had eliminated performance cars and we were in an energy crisis. Cars weren't very good! Happily, by the early 1980's someone at Ford woke up and started the process of reestablishing performance, albeit slowly. I bought my first Fox body Mustang, a black 1983 GT with wider than stock tires on aftermarket wheels in 1985 and I have been there ever since. The '83 was sold to buy a brand new 1993 GT in Artic White. Although a Boss 429 won't be in the cards, I am happy with my Roush Stage 3 equipped Mustang GT purchased new in 2017. I recently added an '89 GT convertible, red/titanium with a white top and interior to the stable. Each one is an absolute blast to drive. I am Jerry Mihay of the Hoosier Mustang Club and I love Mustangs!
